

DAVIDSON HAS FIRED CANNON

Assisted By Connor And B. J. Castle, Republicans Open Campaign In Milwaukee.

LA FOLLETTE IS LITERALLY FLAYED

Lenroot's Balloon Is Punctured By The Eloquence Of The Different Speakers--The Fight Starts Most Merrily.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 1.—The last month of the anti-primary campaign has opened. Not only has it opened, but Governor Davidson, W. D. Connor and B. J. Castle have fired a whole battery of small oratory into the serried ranks of the Lenroot followers. It was a burst of eloquence and song that began the last thirty days of the campaign of 1906 in Milwaukee. La Follette had been here before. He had announced that Lenroot was his choice; that all who differed with him were traitors; that the present primary law was not as good as it might be, owing to opposition to the bill sustained in the Senate. He had filled the hearts of his "faithful" with joy and the hearts of the opponents with wrath. And last night Davidson, Connor and Castle came and added their little words of pearly wisdom to the growing Davidson sentiment throughout the state. It was a great meeting and while the speeches were not as flowery, the manipulations and gestures as grand as a few weeks ago when La Follette spoke, the enthusiasm was more sincere.

Hot Shots Galore

The speakers of the evening were Gov. Davidson, B. J. Castle of Black River Falls, and W. D. Connor, candidate for lieutenant governor. Gov. Davidson stated he had always stood for the reforms advocated in the last ten years. He made no reference to the action of Senator La Follette on Lenroot's candidacy.

B. J. Castle attacked the record of Lenroot as a reformer. He stated Lenroot voted for an amendment to the state exemption law, which would have worked a hardship on workingmen and that Lenroot had also voted to amend the railroad tax distribution law. These laws both were condemned by La Follette.

W. D. Connor attacked La Follette and accused him of ungratefulness. He maintained La Follette turned against those who aided him in the work of the last six years and had given support to those who had taken but a small part in reforms.

Lenroot Files Papers

Assemblyman Irvine L. Lenroot of Superior filed with the secretary of state today petitions enabling him to be a candidate for the republican nomination for governor at the primaries in September. The petitions contain about 3,500 names and represent about sixty counties. No petitions from his home county, Douglas, or from Gov. Davidson's home county, Crawford, are included in the list. It is understood that both he and Gov. Davidson have many more names than they have filed, each fearing that the other may use the lists for mailing purposes or for secret personal campaign purposes.

Kempf in Line

State Treasurer John J. Kempf also filed his petitions today. They contain about 7,000 names from forty-two counties. Mr. Kempf said that he has about 10,000 signatures, but has not used the lists he has received. The law requires that 1 per cent of the voters of the party in at least six counties, but Mr. Kempf has not been contented to meet the minimum requirement. Mr. Kempf has no names from counties in which there are other candidates for the office of state treasurer, and the range of the counties used shows the character of his support. In Milwaukee city the papers filed showed 2,203 names, and in Oshkosh 303 signatures.

Other Candidates

Other candidates who filed petitions today are: Congressman W. H. Stafford of Milwaukee, Fifth district; Spencer M. Marsh of Neillsville, Twenty-fifth senatorial district; Henry Lockney and O. L. Rosenkrantz, Milwaukee, Thirty-third senatorial district; Assemblyman A. P. Jardee, Polk and Burnett county assembly district; and Charles H. Forward, Oshkosh, Eighth congressional district. Mr. Forward is the prohibitionist candidate. All others who filed papers today are republicans.

Goes to Superior

Senator James J. McGilivray of Black River Falls, until a few days ago a candidate for governor, will invade the home precincts of Speaker Lenroot, the La Follette candidate. Friends of McGilivray have engaged the Fair building in that city and have announced a public meeting for Monday night. It is supposed that the senator will talk on the garnishes and wage exemption bill for which Speaker Lenroot voted last session as did Senator Edmund and Assemblyman Andrew, who are now candidates for senator from this district. This is also the home of A. T. Rock, secretary of the Wisconsin Grocery association, who fathered the bill and helped to lobby it through, only to have it vetoed. There is talk of a joint debate between McGilivray and Rock.

MUTINIES AT CRONSTADT AND SVEABORG COLLAPSE; TRAITORS FOREDOOMED

Efforts Of Russian Revolutionists To Capture Baltic Squadron Were Apparently Unsuccessful, Though Report Has "Pamyat Azova" Seized.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Helsingfors, Aug. 2.—There was no firing at Sveaborg or the other islands in the vicinity during the night or this morning and no definite news has been received thus far today from the scene of the mutiny. Prisoners are being landed in batches guarded by the loyal troops.

Mutineers Have Surrendered. St. Petersburg, Aug. 2.—An official telegram from Helsingfors announces that all mutineers at the fortress of Sveaborg have surrendered. By order of the emperor court martial are being instituted for the trials of the men implicated.

THE SVEABORG MUTINY.

The Sveaborg mutiny first broke out Monday morning among a sapper battalion in the fortress. The artillery which had been disarmed joined in the revolt, and together the mutineers took possession of the forts. The commander of the fortress appealed personally to the men, but his words were unheeded. The mutiny speedily assumed an aggressive character. The commander of the sapper battalion was fired upon by his men and wounded. He was then stoned to death and thrown into the sea.

Wild Rumors From Cronstadt.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 2.—The wild rumors are in circulation and one which is to the effect that mutiny has broken out at Cronstadt has again caused the utmost alarm. This alarm has been increased by the fact that telephone communication with Cronstadt is again interrupted. It is asserted that four mutinous warships have arrived at Cronstadt; that the guns of the fortress have been trained on them; but that fire has not yet been opened.

Cronstadt Mutiny Crushed. St. Petersburg, Aug. 2.—During the night the mutinous sailors, soldiers, sappers and miners who seized Fort Constantino at Cronstadt but were subsequently dislodged were compelled to surrender. After heavy fighting with loyal regiments. A hundred men were killed and many wounded, including Admiral Bock. Some mutineers succeeded in boarding a steamer and escaping to Finland.

Deshlagers Surrendered. Tiflis, Caucasus, Aug. 2.—Upon the arrival of a detachment of Cossacks, the companies of the Samur regiment at the garrison of Deshlager commanding the famous Iron Gate at Derbent, which had mutinied, surrendered and handed over their ring-leader to the Cossack commander. This garrison received the news of the dissolution of parliament by rising, killing their commanding officer, installing themselves in complete control of the city and placing their sentinels before the post, telegraph and other government buildings.

Captured War Cruiser.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 2.—Startling news has reached here to the effect that the crews of the armored cruiser "Pamyat Azova," mutinied off the Estonian coast and are now in full possession of the ship which sailed

Despite all the staggering blows that our various monopolies have been handed, you'll notice that the man who pays gets the same joyous bill each month.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 2.—It is stated that the captain and four officers of the armored cruiser "Pamyat Azova" were killed by mutineers who captured the warship.

General Strike Declared.

London, Aug. 2.—The Reuters St. Petersburg dispatch says that an extraordinary conference of all the revolutionary bodies today decided for an immediate general strike. The exact date and hour will be settled at a meeting tonight. Railways and factories are ordered to prepare for future events.

Imperial Family in Flight? St. Petersburg, Aug. 2.—It is rumored that the Emperor and Imperial family have fled from Peterhof to Tsarskoe-Selo.

Government Breathes Easier.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 2.—The collapse of the mutiny at Sveaborg coupled with the apparent breakdown of the plans of the revolutionists to secure possession of the Baltic squadron and provoke an immediate uprising at Cronstadt greatly changes the situation. The spirits of the government officials have risen and those of the revolutionists are correspondingly depressed. Arrangements for the ordering of a general strike Saturday may be countermanded.

The latest reports show that all rumors to the effect that the Baltic squadron was in the hands of the mutineers are untrue.

On arriving at Chiapuzzi the Italian customs officers ordered the ambassador to open his baggage for inspection. A heated discussion ensued. REIGNS WITHOUT RULING OVER LARGEST EMPIRE IN THE WHOLE WORLD

The Emperor Of China Has Reached His Thirty-Fifth Year And Is Still A Subject.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2.—Kwang Shu, the Emperor of China, reached his thirty-fifth year today and a cable message from China says that the foreign ambassadors paid the customary visit to the palace to present congratulations on behalf of their respective rulers. Recent news dispatches from China are to the effect that the young Emperor, who from his birth has been a weakling physically and mentally, is now in a serious condition. His death at any time would occasion little surprise. In the event of his passing away it is probable that the liberal reform element would make a great effort to seize the reins of government and with some hope of success now that the Dowager Empress has grown so old that she would find it difficult to continue her grasp on the throne.

In many respects the Dowager Empress is one of the most remarkable as she is one of the most monstrous figures of modern history. She was the daughter of a Manchurian noble, and followed the fortunes of her family from Peking to Canton, until, when she was about 7 years old, the condition of her father's finances necessitated, or at least resulted in, her sale as a slave into the family of a Canton merchant. Her beauty even at that time was pronounced, according to Chinese standards, and her cleverness had already developed.

When she was about 17 years old the Emperor Hsien Fung, as is the Chinese custom, issued a proclamation calling upon the daughters of Manchuria to present themselves at Peking for a choice to be made among them for the imperial harem. She traveled up to Peking in the luxury befitting her rank, triumphantly passed the ordeal of inspection by the Emperor's officers, and was promptly installed in the imperial palace among the Emperor's women.

This was in 1848. Beautiful, accomplished and possessed of consummate tact and unusual knowledge, Tsu Tsi soon stepped out from among the throng of the harem residents into a separate and distinctive place. Later, when she presented the Emperor with a son and heir to the throne, she rose still higher in favor.

In 1860, while the boy was still young, his father died and very soon the small boy was proclaimed Emperor under the title of Tung Chi, with the Dowager Empress and mother Empress appointed co-regents. For many years, dominating her weak co-regent, Tsu Tsi was absolute ruler of China. Finally her son, Tung Chi, attained his majority, was duly proclaimed Emperor, and the regency ended.

Apparently Tsu Tsi's career was closed. Wise and silent, she drew back with her sister regent into private imperial life. But Tung Chi died, and his young wife passed away in childbirth, and the Dowager Empress at once again came to the front, presenting to the Chinese people a new Emperor in the person of Kwang Shu, a baby son of a brother of the Emperor Hsien Fung. It is this nephew of her dead husband who is now the sick Emperor of China, and whose death, which may be but a matter of weeks or days, will precipitate a political, social and industrial upheaval which the Flowery Kingdom never before has experienced in its centuries of history.

PRETTY GIRL WHO HAD A PENCHANT FOR OLD BOOKS

Southern History Interested Her So Much That She "Borrowed" Many Rare Volumes.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Aug. 2.—A beautiful, highly educated young woman whose strong desire to amass a library of historical works on the subject of southern history developed into a kleptomaniac for books from the Wisconsin State Historical and university libraries, is the story told in an official announcement by Dr. R. G. Thwaites of the historical library of Wisconsin. Miss Jenny H. Morrill, for two years a graduate student at the university, a leader in social and scholastic circles and an intensely devoted and ambitious student in the field of southern history, appears to have helped herself to the choicest and most rare and valuable works in the libraries here, particularly books relating to her chosen field of research. She left five packing boxes in a warehouse here and these were examined under a search warrant secured by Dr. Thwaites, and he was shocked to find some 200 volumes there, the property of the library upon them. Miss Morrill is now temporarily in Highlands, North Carolina, in a college for women. The case is a most distressing one to the university authorities here, for Miss Morrill was universally admired and was held in high esteem on account of her devotion to scholarly work and because of her many personal graces. The authorities are not inclined to bring prosecution, attributing the conduct to a mental condition induced by great desire to obtain a library, a desire which was impossible of attainment in her limited financial situation. In order that the newspaper reports might not be unnecessarily harsh, Dr. Thwaites, director of the historical library, made an official statement of the matter after some sensational reports had been published.

The ceremonies were conducted by the Daughters of the American Revolution, assisted by other patriotic and historical societies.

BUILD PARADISE ON THIS EARTH

ADVICE OF RALPH PARLETTE, HUMOROUS PHILOSOPHER.

A LARGE CROWD LAST NIGHT

Heard Dr. Sowerby's Lecture—Clairvoyant Powers God-Given—Startling Citations.

Patrons of the Chautauqua yesterday afternoon and last evening were treated to two very strong, but also very unusual, types of lectures. Good-sized audiences heard both and expressed their appreciation in applause. In the afternoon Ralph Parlette, the humorist-philosopher, weighed in the balance of life the value of money and worldly riches against is clairvoyant in diagnosing disease. But it seems to be specialized in these cases, for they are as other people in everything else, except in the case of Blind Tom, who was an idiot in all other relations. There is the clairvoyance of the hypnotized subject. The operator has only to press his subject down to the fifth stage of sleep to have him clairvoyant. Then there is the person to whom clairvoyance is natural, but involuntary. Of this we have a multitude of cases, indeed perhaps every life has at some time had glimpses of visions through the eye of the spirit, though it has not been recognized as such. One other kind of clairvoyance is that of the person in whom it is natural and in some sense voluntary. The lecturer then enumerated various interesting cases to illustrate these different forms. The address was one of supreme interest and was a source of great enlightenment to many to whom this subject has been so mysterious that they have either believed its relations nature or supernatural.

LOOKING DOWN THE SLOPE

happiness and through his eyes those who heard him saw riches outweighed. In the evening Dr. Sowerby spoke on "Clairvoyance." He expressed his belief in such a power, said that it was God-given and defined the variety of clairvoyant powers. His lecture was strengthened by illustrative captions and instances.

Ralph Parlette's Lecture. Ralph Parlette opened his lecture with the address: "Fellow sufferers." With this he won the hearts of all and in them grew as he proceeded. He arranged so-called wealth. The search for money and worldly riches. According to a funny idea rampant in this age those things constitute wealth, but true wealth cannot be purchased with dollars and cents—wealth is friends, health and a home. There is only one kind of poverty and that is soul poverty. To illustrate his philosophy he drew the pictures of two lives—that of Harry Scott, who started out to "make money," that man succeeded in attaining his aim, but when at an advanced age his wife died he came to a realization of his mistake and piling his fortune up in paper money, burned it, but he was too late, the other life was that of William McKinley, the boy who commenced life at the same time Scott did, but whose only purpose was to be a good man like his father. Parlette looks at the bright side of everything and his lecture is filled with humor of the brightest stamp.

Dr. Sowerby's Lecture. Dr. Sowerby opened his lecture by scoring the mountebanks and charlatans who litter the country, taking advantage of the credulity of the people and making merchandise of a gift of God. These, however, are not so bad as the flagrant counterfeits who by a series of adroit questions gain information from their victims, and then astonish them by telling them things which they are very sure no person knows but themselves. The hypnotist who uses a divine process for the mere amusement of the people, who know nothing of the sacredness of the power, and the man who would roll a cathedral of his vestments and burlesque in them for the amusement of the rabble. Clairvoyance is one of the manifestations of the divine in man and may be defined as "the enlightenment of the spiritual mind of man so that it may be in contact with the spiritual world."

Clairvoyance is of different kinds, shades and degrees. The lowest form of clairvoyance is intuition—a characteristic which people should cultivate, but they do not. Women are more intuitive than men. The man boasts of his brain and reasoning powers. A woman intuitively and instantly reaches a conclusion. "You ask her 'why' and she replies 'because.'" This is because she reaches her conclusion by a direct route though she may not know how. The next higher step is genius. While you may never have thought of it in this relation, I believe it to be a fact that genius is a manifestation of the divine in man. Men of genius are often inspired in their discoveries. The speaker begged his hearers not to imagine he was carrying them off on a tangent, as he would now speak of clairvoyance. This he said is the unfolding of the spiritual nature that it may see things not recognized by the organ of vision. Spiritualists have appropriated this gift, but why? Many clairvoyants are not spiritualists at all, though that body would appropriate everyone of them. Of clairvoyance there seems to be four kinds. First, those in whom it is specialized and seems but a degree removed from genius. "Blind Tom" was a clairvoyant in music. Zera Coburn was a clairvoyant in mathematics, and Michael Angelo in art. The speaker said he knows a man who seems clairvoyant in poetry and a woman who

JANESVILLE IS IMPROVING ON NATURE.

Much Interest Is Shown in Floriculture by Citizens of Janesville.

Visitors can not walk in the residential district of our city without finding many plants to delight the eye. Almost every house can boast of a few flowers, perhaps only a geranium, a morning glory climbing near the porch or a sunflower at the rear; but even these humble specimens lend interest that is lacking elsewhere.

A few leisure hours of diligent work with a spade and a hoe and a rake can accomplish more than the average man or woman realize. And such work has its reward in itself. Decorations are more effective if they can be massive, around an entrance or in a front yard. Special emphasis should always be laid on the fact that badly cared-for flowers are never attractive and even the hardiest will suffer without a little care. Good taste in selection is absolutely necessary.

The recent growth of vines has concealed many an ugly building in Janesville. In this country the amount of original nature is decreasing, but the love for it is on the increase. More time is spent every year in the garden and most every one appreciates a good garden. As it is said that music has a universal appreciation, so we may say of nature. There can be a world of nature in a backyard or on a lawn, if they but have a little grass with some flowers and bushes. An investigation about Janesville will show that the people about our city are realizing this fact, as there are in our city a large number of well-kept gardens, both vegetable and floral, not only neatly kept, but well arranged and cultivated in a way that affords joy and pride to the owners. Wise men have said that a view of nature should make one gentle-minded, not only to nature itself, but to mankind in general. The native which is almost extinct in the larger cities is found in abundance in the flower city. If you were to stand at the top of the numerous hills which surround our city and look into the valley you could not help but notice that we have our share of foliage.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Fitchett, at their home, 219 Milton avenue, have without a doubt the most elaborate flower garden in the city. A specialty is made in this yard of sweet peas and dahlias and by a six-year study of the sweet pea, Mr. and Mrs. Fitchett have grown some of the most beautiful ever seen in this section. Mr. Fitchett has been aided in the work by the nitrogen process, which consists in taking the nitrogen from the air and putting it into the soil, which does wonders in growing many plants. About eight rods long, which are in full blossom, it is worthy to be in blossom later. It is worthy to be in blossom later. It is worthy to be in blossom later.

JANESVILLE DRINKS MAY BE UP TO DATE

Lovers of the High Balls Seeking Innovations Might Try Liquid Air.

If the plans of certain inventors of new, iced drinks in London, England, are successful in their operations liquid air high balls may become popular in Janesville—in time. It is announced that a process has been discovered for manufacturing liquid air at a price that will enable it to be commonly used to cool beverages, which will thereby not be diluted as they are by the use of ice. Air thus liquefied can be sold for $1.25 a gallon. If kept in vacuum containers it will not evaporate in seventeen days.

A few drops only is necessary to refrigerate a high ball. The drops take a pearl shape and dance like animated diamonds. A white mist rises from the glass. Little lumps of white ice form and melt. In two minutes the drink is ready and delicious to drink.

Impatient drinkers would better adhere to ice as, if they should drink before the liquid air evaporates, the result would be pathetic for the drinker, though humorous for the lookers on.

Owners of the process recommend air thus liquefied as a power for automobiles and for blasting. It exerts as it expands a pressure of 15,000 pounds to a square inch.

CHAPTER VI.

There was one room not needed, convenient and nice;
And a good one to rent at a reasonable price.
Said the wife: "It's all furnished, and clean as a pin."
In the Gazette a Want Ad I think I'll put in.

Then she acted at once on her own little plan,
And rented the room to a young business man.
In reply to ad he applied with the rest
But of all the room-seekers she said he was best.

Now, if you desire roomers or boarders as well,
Her little experience surely will tell
Of a method of getting them without vexation—
An Ad in the Gazette gets the best circulation.

To Kill Dandelions.
The best means, and surest, is to dig up, root and all. This is tedious, however, and expensive. Try, in case the digging process is not employed, the sulphate of iron solution. Use a good-sized handful to three gallons of water and sprinkle this over an area of 20 feet square. It will not injure the grass and will kill the dandelions, at least some of them.

Sore Lungs
We want everybody who has a hard cold, in the chest, to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Our long experience with it, over thirty years, tells us there is nothing its equal for coughs, colds in the chest, bronchitis, hoarseness, sore lungs, weak throats, and weak lungs. Doctors tell us the same thing. Ask your doctor about it. We have no secret. The Cherry Pectoral is a good medicine. Lowell, Mass.

A poor advertising medium may be likened to a file which takes something from everything with which it comes into contact, but returns nothing which has been taken.

Janesville streets are fast becoming better and more up-to-date.

The Janesville Chautauqua is receiving press notices all over the state for its stand against political bickerings from its platform.

The Milwaukee Free Press is for Lenroot all right, even if Uncle Ike has been given a gold brick by Bob.

Davidson has hupled the bomb into the enemy's camp and is ready to help Connor rip the stuffing out of the enemy.

Lenroot has filed his nomination papers, so there is no hope of his dropping out of the fight. This leaves the status quo very interesting.

The Eagles are to flit to the Cream City shortly to partake of the good cheer and hospitality which the Wisconsin metropolis is noted for.

The Milwaukee Journal is making mighty efforts to make Milwaukee a city of importance and is succeeding in stirring up considerable interest in its future.

The democrats have proved the exceeding wisdom of the Primary Law by their conventions throughout the state. Where is the will of the people?

Senator McGillivray is to invade Lenroot's home town and tell the voters what sort of a man the Stenographer really is, if they do not know it already.

Cement gutters, curbs and sidewalks, if all on one level and not a new grade every time, a walk is to be laid, will certainly give Janesville a city air in time.

A beautiful girl from the south has been found guilty of stealing rare volumes from the state historical society. She will not be prosecuted, not because of her beauty, but because they can not bring her back.

B. J. Castle, who for years has bowed to the will of the "boss," has turned at last and his stinging remarks in Milwaukee last night throw off the last iron that have bound him body and soul to the cause of the "reformer."

Another Wisconsin boy to jump into the game is Hobart Bird, a former Madisonian, who now sues high government officials for large sums of money. The trial comes off in New York and will doubtless be interesting.

Gross misstatements about a prominent city official with an idea of ending his usefulness to the city and for the benefit of disappointed office-seekers have been current the past two days—malicious gossip that hurts the gossippers more than it does the official.

Local politicians are given a shock when they read the names on the democratic ticket selected at the "Channel of the circuit court room in their own special organ," the only democratic paper in the first congressional district.

Money for the national congressional campaign fund is slowly coming in at one dollar per republican. Roosevelt, however, sent his little dollar as well as a letter, which if the committee gets hard-up they might sell at auction for the signature.

The Milwaukee Free Press denies the charge that the word "harmony" has been inked out of their dictionary and insists that it is hung up on the wall like the mottoes of the good old home. If it is, it is either so dusty that it can not be read or is turned to the wall for convenience sake.

Now the time for the filing of nomination papers is at hand the wild scramble for signatures will end and voters will have a chance to sit down and think and figure up how many papers he has signed for different men for the same office. Lucky for him the attorney general decided he did not have to stick to his signature as he would on a note at a bank.

office. Good for the News. Be consistent if nothing else. To be logical is out of its line, so consistency is the only redeeming feature it can cling to.

THE NEXT HOUSE

The journey of Chairman James S. Sherman of the Republican Congressional committee to Oyster Bay, and the journey of Chairman James M. Griggs of the Democratic Congressional committee to Wall street, scheduled for the near future by the political newsgatherers, indicate that the fight for control of the next House of Representatives is already opening. This contest will be well worth watching, for it will follow new lines and will mark in many respects a break with political traditions. Hitherto the idea has prevailed that congressional campaigns were to be won or lost by headquarters strategy. There are in the whole country some fifty or sixty close and doubtful districts, and the practice for many years has been to concentrate all efforts on these districts and to rely for victory on the thoroughness with which these wavering constituencies have been organized and canvassed. Literature had to be supplied, "spells" had to be cast, and money spent on all the mechanical details of electioneering. This year it looks as if these mechanical details would be more or less neglected. The collection of funds for campaign use has been discouraged, and in New York, Pennsylvania and other states corporations have been forbidden to make any contributions of money for political purposes. There will be no well filled chests at headquarters, and the role played by the two congressional committees will be only mildly advisory.

Another novel and striking feature of this year's contests will be the absence of any party issue. Positive enough to create old-fashioned party feeling. In the present House of Representatives the two parties have clashed on no serious question of policy. No law has been passed on which the minority can seek to frame a case against the majority. On the engrossing and overshadowing issue of the last session—whether congress should or should not pass a law effecting regulating railroad rates—democrats and republicans worked together and not at cross purposes. Both majority and minority supported the program of a republican President, and no democratic representative can ask a reflection on his record without at the same time indicting the record of his republican associates. That is the crushing handicap put upon the managers of the democratic canvass. For on the single commanding issue in politics today they must confess that they voluntarily and enthusiastically accepted the leadership of a republican President.

"We cannot understand," and we think the voters will fail to understand, the logic of the appeal which the democratic managers will have to make to the country. "Turn the rascals out" is a plain and intelligible slogan. But it savors altogether too much of sophistication to say, "Turn the republicans out, not for anything they have done (for we helped them with their program and are just as much committed to it as they are), but simply to give us a chance to show that we can possibly do as well as they did under the same circumstances." On such an issue no genuine national campaign can be fought, and we expect to see this year's contest assume a peculiarly local character.

Each constituency will meet for itself the question—whether its sitting member can advantageously be retained or displaced, and we fancy that the answer will depend largely on the degree of assistance given by the sitting member to the administration, and its policies. There may be republicans whose entire loyalty to the President's principles is distributed by the voters, and there may be democrats whose pledges of co-operation will be accepted as sincere and satisfactory. Moreover, a few districts unexpectedly carried by republican candidates in 1904 may return this year to their normal party allegiance. Yet it is clear that were President Roosevelt's leadership the direct issue he would get today a vote of confidence in many more congress districts than were carried by republican candidates two years ago. And as he asks for another republican majority in the house to help carry his policies more definitely and fully into effect, it is hard to resist the conclusion that the voters will gladly give it to him.

Sheboygan Journal: Milk has gone up 6 cents a quart. It may be necessary to feed the babies on beer.

A Rainy Day Gent?

Chicago Record-Herald: "Strike and spare not!" commands Premier Stolypin. However, it has been decided that the strike shall not for the present be called.

Like the "Good Old Days."
Milwaukee Journal: It certainly begins to look like old times. The old stalwart Inter-Ocean of Chicago has a four-column attack on La Folletteism.

Madison Journal: Harvest balls are being announced in the papers. They begin with the hired man and milkmaid waiting out at four o'clock in the morning.

Umpire Derelict to Duty.
Chicago Record-Herald: A baseball umpire has been fined $50 for permitting two players to fight and injure each other. It is always an umpire's duty to receive the injuries himself.

The Audacity of Folk.
Kansas City Journal: Gov. Polk seems to have some genuine heroism in his makeup. He told Milwaukee to her face that she ought to keep the Sunday law on Milwaukee, mind you.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Andrew Carnegie announces his intention of inviting "twenty great men of the world" to dine with him and in every hamlet is somebody watching the mails with renewed interest.

Want to Be "The" Fluid.
Milwaukee Journal: All of the candidates admit that they are on "advanced ground," and in favor of preserving "representative government" if they themselves are used as the preserving fluid. Surely they are fluid enough.

We Can't All Be Attorneys.
La Crosse Press: Governor Davidson will probably bear up with a great deal of fortitude under the accusation that he is not a lawyer. There are some hundreds of thousands of other reputable citizens of Wisconsin similarly disqualified.

Nice House For $500.
Exchange: Edison says he is going to make it possible to build a $25,000 house for $500 by simply pouring concrete into molds. It isn't likely, however, that this will put an end to unhappiness. People who have $25,000 houses will worry because they can't have $50,000 residences.

Less Impressive in Little Tent.
Milwaukee News: The howling dereliction of "reform" are not as imposing in their side show act as they were when they were the featured attraction in the big tent. Looping the loop was startling, but bumping the bumps is not calculated to excite the awe of the watching multitude.

Primary His Excuse.
Green Bay Gazette: Senator La Follette states that he can not see why, under the primary law, he cannot work for any candidate he sees fit. In the years gone by the political bosses and the corporations said the same thing. There is no law against a man supporting any candidate, but at the same time there are other reasons just as cogent why sometimes it should not be done.

Two Sturtevant's at Peace.
Marquette Eagle-Star: Apropos of the old statement that "politics make strange bed-fellows," we now find attorney General Sturtevant and Editor Sturtevant, of Waupaca, both supporting Gov. Davidson for the republican nomination for governor. A few years ago over the delivery of one of the latter's publications will be recalled. There is, however, nothing really strange in the conditions. All kinds of people are according a hearty support to Davidson.

The Senate Saved.
New York Sun: The Hon. Robert Marion La Follette has been a member of the United States senate only since Jan. 4, but his presence in that body has already produced excellent results. He announces that a "marked change is coming over" the other members, who are getting to be more in touch with the people, and "are winning under the fire of criticism and exposure" to which they have been subjected. Senator La Follette regards the change in which he has a seat as "more representative of the people" than the house, in which there is absolutely no such thing as more as a congressman representing the views of his constituents.

Progress vs. Alleged Ethics.
Milwaukee Journal: There are a lot of things in this world that the average man who wants to be broad-minded does not understand. You would label the doctors, for instance, "progressive and advanced." You would think that they had outgrown prejudice, the same as the Presbyterians have outgrown infant damnation and various other beliefs that were once considered moral laws and are now only unpleasant history. And you would be wrong. In the city of Chicago there is a skilled physician who has performed the marvelous feat of removing a woman's diseased stomach and preserving her life. She has lived for years without a stomach. There are many diseased stomachs

Can we longer afford to overlook the fact that we can secure the very best of dental service at about half the rates we have been paying? Dr. Richards of Janesville, the independent dentist, says he would be delighted to have his work (put out at a modest price) compared with work done by others at possibly double his prices. He affirms that the comparison will establish the fact that his work is good in every respect. His work is lasting. His work is done thoroughly. His work is substantial, and, in fact, not excelled by that of any other local dentist.

In addition to the reasonableness of his prices he gives close attention to painless work. Now see what you get by having him do your dental work.

CHAUTAUQUA IS SURELY SUCCESS

HOLBROOK EXPRESSES OPINION ON JANESVILLE ASSEMBLY.

A PRIEST-LECTURER FRIDAY

Gertrude Goodwin Miller This Afternoon and Ralph Parlette This Evening.

"It's a success, a big success, and a permanent institution in Janesville, one that will grow, broaden and branch out." Such is the candid opinion of Manager Harry M. Holbrook, "The audiences," he continued, "are the most attentive I have seen at any assembly this summer. The people here appreciate high-class entertainment. I believe we are pleasing them. Next summer we will more than please them. Last year our program was made up in a hurry, on short notice. For this summer we had a year in which to prepare and there is a variety and tone to the entertainment, which can only be secured by preparation far in advance. Next year we plan to have a program even better and the improvements on the Chautauqua grounds are being contemplated. The members of the grounds committee and myself will go over the part this week and next according to their own judgment will act on some suggestions that I have to offer as an outgrowth of what I have seen elsewhere. The commencement of actual arrangements for next season will begin Sunday afternoon. At that time the subscription of season tickets will be taken. There will be but eight hundred placed on the market. Unless these are all taken with the option of paying for them before July 1, 1907, we will put the remainder on sale at two dollars. The subscription price is a dollar and a half. There is a surprise in store for everybody at the Sunday afternoon session. I can't now disclose the nature of it.

Friday, August 3

10:00 a. m.—Morning lecture, "The Pathway and Clairvoyance," Rev. J. H. Sowerby.

2:00 p. m.—Midday concert, The Dixies.

2:30 p. m.—Lecture, "A Century of American Diplomacy," Dr. G. T. Nagle.

4:15 p. m.—Sketches from Life, Gertrude Goodwin Miller.

7:30 p. m.—Songs of "Beto de Wah," The Dixies.

8:00 p. m.—"Fanchon, the Cricket," Gertrude Goodwin Miller.

9:30 p. m.—Moving pictures.

All audiences, morning, afternoon and evening, have been growing as the Chautauqua progresses and tomorrow there promises to be three larger and more enthusiastic crowds than have been assembled since Sunday.

Dr. Sowerby's morning work is increasing in popularity in the afternoon. Father Nagle, the priest-lecturer, speaks in the evening. Gertrude Goodwin Miller gives her masterpiece, "Fanchon, the Cricket."

Of Dr. Nagle it would probably be interesting to hear what Alfred T. Flood, platform manager here, says of him. "I first met Dr. Nagle four years ago, when I changed to stay over night in a town where he occasionally held services. I saw a few little bills as big as the palm of my hand stuck in the windows announce more about American statesmanship than I had ever dreamed of. His lecture was so full of lofty sentiment and true patriotism and of enthusiasm for a country with such a past, that everybody went away proud of his heritage. It is one of the most scholarly and yet most popular historical addresses I have heard anywhere."

For those who heard Miss Miller this afternoon it is perhaps needless to say anything. The strongest recommendation for her for tomorrow night is what those present today say of her. At Belvidere her rendition of tomorrow evening's selection was considered one of the "biggest" treats of the entire assembly. Miss Miller will give a short reading after Dr. Nagle's lecture tomorrow afternoon. Previous to both afternoon and evening programs the Dixies will sing and at the close of the evening entertainment there will be moving pictures.

Magnetism—Personal, Not Animal. Magnetism was the subject of Dr. Sowerby's psychic lecture this morning. He is now discussing these phenomena with reference to the practical utilities of life. This morning he made one more division and application of this peculiar force which he calls the "mind of the spirit." He said that as the body has a native heat the presence or absence of which is a positive evidence of life or death so the spirit has an aura which may be felt at long distances. This is sometimes called the mental atmosphere—a man's magnetic influence, but it is really an emanation of the spirit of man. This may be felt if you sit in a dark room, peered so that a person's approach would make no sound; you are conscious of the presence of a person in the room should anyone come in. This you get when you meet a person. If you feel yourself inferior you need not tell anyone in words for he knows it.

The moral atmosphere of a city may be known by a sensitive man by walking down its streets. This is called magnetism, but the term is used arbitrarily. It is really the spiritual force parallel to the animal heat. This will heal disease, enable one to make success in business, overcome difficulties and make friends.

The speaker then went into details and showed the audience methods by which this force might be used effectively. As usual, on coming from the platform, a large crowd gathered about Dr. Sowerby with numerous questions which shows the great interest which is being aroused by this interesting series of morning lectures.

Dr. James Watson, who speaks Saturday and Sunday afternoons, is one of the most powerful of the newer lecturers. He is a Quaker of Cleveland and well known in Canada as a lecturer of exceptional worth and with a masterful message. He is a master of Scotch dialect, his stories of Scotch characteristics being the best on the platform. He has been a great success at the assemblies this summer, and his coming to Janesville should prove a notable event in the history of the assembly here.

W. C. Buckner's Subject

"The Searchlight Turned On" is the topic upon which W. C. Buckner, the manager of the Dixie Jubilee singers, will lecture Sunday evening. Mr. Buckner is new as a speaker on the platform, but his few appearances have all met with hearty receptions and the Janesville Chautauquians should look forward to his number as one of the most unique and interesting. Mr. Buckner is a college graduate and a man wide in the experience of the world.

Already the people of Janesville are discussing who of the present talent they want returned. There are two men who stand above others—John B. Ratto, the impersonator, and Dr. Hedley.

WISCONSIN BOY SEEKS DAMAGES FROM OFFICIALS

HOBART BIRD OF MADISON NOW OF NEW YORK, HAS SUIT.

HE ASKS FOR A LARGE SUM

Edited a Paper at Porto Rico and Makes Claims He Was Driven Out of Business.

Hobart S. Bird, son of Col. Bird of Madison, a graduate of the state university in both law and engineering, at present practicing law in New York city and an erstwhile editor and owner of the San Juan News of San Juan, Porto Rico, has jumped into the limelight with a suit for $100,000 against eight of the highest American officials of the island, including the present governor and his predecessor, in the supreme court in Brooklyn. Bird charges them with having wrecked his paper, ruined his reputation, and forced him out of the island.

The Defendants. The defendants named in the complaint are William H. Hunt, former governor, now federal judge of Montana; Willis Sweet, attorney general; James Harlan, son of Justice Harlan of the supreme court, former attorney general; Regis H. Post of New York, secretary of the colonial office; John D. H. Lucie of Boston, head of the Spanish bank of San Juan; James H. McLeary, associate justice of the supreme court of Porto Rico; Jesus M. Rosay, prosecuting attorney of the district of San Juan; and Beckman Windrop of New York, present governor of the island.

Corruption Charges Made. Bird's complaint sets forth that the defendants were "actuated by a desire to prevent exposure of their own corruption and misconduct and the corruption and misconduct of their associates."

In the case of Lucie it is charged that a chance to recover $20,000 from the treasury of Porto Rico was offered him as a further inducement to join in the plot against Bird.

Efforts to injure Bird, the complaint alleges, commenced with a number of criminal actions for libel and contempt. Bird edited and published the San Juan News. Its policy was opposed to much that took place in the Porto Rico government. It charged many officials with improprieties at office.

The officials first organized to retaliate, it is set up, in 1901. In a comparatively short time thereafter fifty-one criminal actions and four civil actions were brought against the editor of the News. All were dismissed or conducted to an acquittal, save one criminal action on a charge under the old Spanish law. It was "contempt of a minister of the crown or an authority." In effect, less majesty. He was sentenced to two months in prison for this.

His News Dealt With Arrested. Bird charged also that his paper was illegally seized and that Harlan actually had dealers who sold it arrested and hired thugs to intimidate the editor and his employees.

He asserts that Judge McLeary bargained with him about this case and agreed to let him out on bail if he would let the present governor, Windrop, offered to commute his sentence if he would leave Porto Rico and not return for six years. The defendants have opposed a demurrer in the suit.

MUTINEERS QUIT IN FACE OF FIRE

EFFECTIVE WORK DONE BY RUSSIAN CRUISERS.

MAGAZINE IS BLOWN UP

Deprived of Ammunition for Their Big Guns and Lacking Provisions, Rebellious Troops Hoist the White Flag.

Viborg, Finland, Aug. 2.—The Russian fleet stationed at Hangö, Finland, has mutinied, imprisoned the officers, and sailed to the assistance of the mutineers at Sveaborg.

Cronstadt, Aug. 2.—Four warships of the Baltic squadron were mutinied and sailed away on the Gulf of Finland. It is reported that they will join the mutinous fleet at Sveaborg and descend in a concerted attack on Cronstadt fortress, which protects the Imperial residence at Peterhof.

Surrender is Reported.
Helsingfors, Aug. 2.—The latest news from the fortress tends to confirm the previous report that the mutineers have surrendered.

The mutineers undoubtedly had the upper hand until the battleships Slava and Czarévitch arrived on the scene and commenced to bombard them with such telling effect that the central magazine was blown up, and the biggest guns in the hands of the revolutionists were rendered practically useless.

Commander Toget and 2,000 loyal infantrymen, then, surrounded the barracks. They were under continual fire from the revolutionists and to which they could not reply. The men undoubtedly were led to surrender because of their lack of big guns, their need of provisions, which they had failed to secure and the arrival of the warships.

May Be Rebel Ruse.
The correspondent spoke to an officer who had returned from Sveaborg about the conditions there.

"Yes," he said, in reply to a question, "white flags have been hoisted, but this may be a ruse to get the ships closer into shore. I do not know anything further."

More reinforcements have arrived here and have been hurried to effective positions.

Crowds Listen to Cannonading.
Except in the vicinity of the fort the town presents practically a normal aspect. During the evening large crowds assembled on the quays listening to the cannonading and watching the dense columns of smoke rising from the islands. All traffic in the harbor has been prohibited.

Regular traffic has been resumed with St. Petersburg. The railroad bridge between Riihimäki and Ryttylä, which was blown up by members of the "Red Guard," having been repaired. Prior to the blowing up of this bridge members of the "Red Guard" seized Fredericksberg station and stopped the St. Petersburg train.

Battleship Fire Effective.
The white flag has been hoisted on one of the islands, but it is premature to say whether the revolutionists there have surrendered or not. In any event, however, the fire from the battleship Slava and another warship undoubtedly had its effect.

During the afternoon a boat put out from Sveaborg and was bombarded. The occupants, who were members of the "Red Guard" were taken into custody.

Wednesday evening the strike committee declared a general strike to begin at seven o'clock, having received an intimation that otherwise Helsingfors would be bombarded. Up to midnight, however, there were no evidences of this strike.

The senate has issued special orders to all governors to adopt measures to maintain public order and security and to strengthen the regular forces with civilians.

Story of the Outbreak.
The Sveaborg mutiny first broke out Monday among a sapper battalion which had been disarmed in the fortress. The artillery joined in the revolt and together the mutineers took possession of the forts. The commander of the fortress appealed personally to the men, but his words were unheeded. The mutiny speedily assumed an aggressive character. The commander of the sapper battalion was fired upon by his men and wounded. He was then stoned to death and thrown into the sea.

Loyal Midship Killed.
A midshipman named Dellvion, attached to one of the torpedo boat destroyers, went out and hauled down the red flag from St. Sudden fortress while the mutineers were firing on him. He received four bullets in the breast and died in a hospital during the night.

Governor May Resign.
Warsaw, Aug. 2.—It is stated here that in view of the recent outrages in and around Warsaw, the increased energy of the revolutionaries and the inadequacy of the repressive measures at present in force, the governor general has informed the government at St. Petersburg in emphatic terms that he will resign unless he is permitted to establish a strict state of siege. It is probable that the government will accept his resignation as a continuation of the present state of affairs is impossible.

The secret printing works here where all socialist newspapers and proclamations have been printed, is a large and well equipped plant. The presses are driven by electricity. Several thousand copies of proclamations by the outlawed parliament were found. Twenty arrests were made.

Lack News at St. Petersburg.
St. Petersburg, Aug. 2.—St. Petersburg is anxiously awaiting news of the outcome of Wednesday's battle between the mutineers and the government forces at Sveaborg.

No definite information has been received here owing to the damage done to the land telegraph wires. The advices received by the government by wireless telegraphy have not been divulged.

The utmost importance is attached to the conduct of the fleet. According to semi-official information the crews of these vessels are still under the control of their officers, but private advices say that a portion of the crews have been confined below decks for fear of mutiny.

There was a rumor in circulation here that four of the ships of the Baltic squadron were in complete mutiny and roaming at large in the Gulf of Finland, and that the commandant at Cronstadt had been notified to be prepared for an attack by these vessels.

It is worthy of note that a dispatch to an official agency from Helsingfors announcing the arrival of the fleet of Sveaborg and the fact that it opened fire does not mention what it opened fire against.

Vice Admiral Birloff presumably has gone to Helsingfors to assume personal command of the fleet, as it now develops that Grand Duke Alexander Michaelovitch, the emperor's brother, is not with the fleet as previously reported, but at Gathina with the emperor's dowager.

Forewarned at Cronstadt.
The most intense anxiety still prevails with regard to a possible uprising at Cronstadt and the general spread of the revolt through the entire naval establishment. A personal visit by a correspondent of the press to Cronstadt, however, shows that the authorities there received timely warning of the events at Sveaborg, and nipped a possible revolt in the bud. They had the situation well in hand Tuesday night and quietly placed detachments of infantry at the doors of the marine barracks and removed the carbines from the racks in the buildings.

The most intense anxiety still prevails with regard to a possible uprising at Cronstadt and the general spread of the revolt through the entire naval establishment. A personal visit by a correspondent of the press to Cronstadt, however, shows that the authorities there received timely warning of the events at Sveaborg, and nipped a possible revolt in the bud. They had the situation well in hand Tuesday night and quietly placed detachments of infantry at the doors of the marine barracks and removed the carbines from the racks in the buildings.

Wednesday morning the 1,500 sailors composing the Seventh equipment quartered at Cronstadt, whose loyalty had been distrusted, found themselves prisoners. The correspondent saw them looking out of the windows of their barracks and unable to communicate with the outside. The streets of Cronstadt are swarming with troops of the loyal guard regiments and the newly arrived men of the Twenty-fourth division, who serve to overawe the disaffected elements.

The commandant at Cronstadt ordered the confiscation of newspapers from St. Petersburg in order to prevent the news of the outbreak at Sveaborg from reaching the islanders. This measure was fairly successful.

Agitators Dispersed.
A group of agitators who went over to Cronstadt in the same boat with the correspondent of the press, attempted to hold meetings and communicate news of the Sveaborg happenings. They were dispersed, however, and fled before the leveled rifles of the soldiers.

Offices of the navy department at Cronstadt are besieged by the wives and relatives of officers on board the ships at Helsingfors, who are frantic over the reports that the crews had arisen and killed their superiors.

As the correspondent was crossing from Cronstadt to Oranienbaum he saw the imperial yacht Pole Star lying with steam up at the pier below the Imperial residence at Peterhof.

Demonstration May Cause Trouble.
The liberals are planning imposing demonstrations here and at Moscow for the funeral of the murdered ex-deputy Herzenstein. Given the present temper of the people these demonstrations may result in collisions and bloodshed such as marked the funeral of Prince Troubetskoy. The liberals have applied for permission to transport Herzenstein's body in state through St. Petersburg from the Finland to the Moscow railroad stations. This has not yet been granted.

The constitutional democrats ascribe the murder of Herzenstein to the "Counter-Terrorist League," otherwise known as the "Black Hundreds," with the alleged intention of exacting from the liberal ranks life for a life for the victims of the terrorists. Herzenstein is said to have been selected in vengeance for the death of Gen. Koslov of the headquarters staff, who was murdered in the park at Peterhof on July 14.

Two persons suspected of complicity in the murder and a gendarme of Terlok who repeatedly was seen in their company have been arrested.

Members of New Cabinet.
Premier Stolypin proceeded by yacht Wednesday to Peterhof where he laid before the emperor for his signature the formal ukases appointing Count Heyden, Prince Nicholas Lvoff and Alexander Guchkoff to portfolios in the reorganized cabinet. The announcement of the emperor's decision is not expected before Friday and fears are entertained that the revolt at Sveaborg may influence him unfavorably in the matter.

Guard Telegraph Office.
The general telegraph office of St. Petersburg and surrounding buildings were occupied by detachments of guards just before midnight Wednesday night. The authorities evidently fear a general attempt to cut communication between the capital and the interior.

IOWA REPUBLICANS SELECT CUMMINS

PRESENT GOVERNOR IS RENOMINATED IN CONVENTION.

PERKINS GIVES PLEDGE

Candidate for Executive Position Renominates in Service of Party in Brief Speech to Delegates at Des Moines.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 2.—The Republican state convention assembled a little before 11 o'clock Wednesday and finished its work before nine o'clock at night. It was not continuously in session. There was no "row" of any kind. Indeed, it was as harmonious a convention as was ever held by the Republicans of this state.

Gov. Cummins had a majority of the delegates and the action of the state central committee in adding to the temporary organization some Perkins delegates did not interfere with his control of the situation. His friends were dominant in the majority of the district caucuses and, consequently controlled, not only the committee on credentials, but secured the adoption of the platform they submitted to the committee on resolutions.

The action of the state central committee, putting 88 of the contesting Perkins delegates on the temporary roll was not sustained by the committee on credentials, who reported in favor of seating only 13 of them.

Bitterness Disappears.
All bitterness, if there were any, had disappeared before the convention met. The report of the committee on credentials, while not unanimous, was unanimously adopted by the convention, and the committee on resolutions submitted an unanimous report.

At the morning session, beyond the calling to order and the speech of the temporary chairman, nothing was done. Judge Towne, who was introduced as the temporary chairman, was cordially greeted by all delegates and the convention adjourned until two o'clock. None of the committees was ready to report at that hour, nor were any ready to submit their reports until after five o'clock.

The interval with intermissions was spent by the delegates and spectators in singing patriotic and other songs. After Gov. Cummins was renominated a committee was appointed to escort him to the platform. He made a little speech in which he said the thing nearest his heart was the Republican party.

Perkins Pledges Loyalty.
George D. Perkins was also called out and received with cheers. He said that in the future as in the past he would be loyal to the Republican party and re-enlisted in its service. He added that he had advocated certain things because he believed them to be true and that he would continue to advocate them. This remark was greeted with cheers.

The majority of the officers on the state ticket were nominated by acclamation, a ballot being necessary only for lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney general and railroad commissioners.

The ticket was completed as follows: Lieutenant governor, Warren Garst; Secretary of state, W. C. Hayward; Auditor of state, B. F. Carroll; Treasurer of state, W. W. Morrow; Attorney general, H. W. Byers; Supreme judges, E. McLean, John C. Sherwin.

Superintendent of public instruction, John F. Riggs; Clerk of supreme court, John C. Crockett.

Reporter of court, W. W. Cornwall; Railroad commissioners, W. L. Eaton, David J. Palmer.

Text of the Platform.
The committee on resolutions submitted the platform which, it was stated, they had unanimously agreed to.

After stating that the Republicans of Iowa find ample cause for rejoicing in present conditions and lauding the history of the party, President Roosevelt's administration is heartily endorsed. The work of Iowa's representatives in the cabinet and congress is approved.

Gov. Cummins and the state officials come in for their share of felicitation. A judicious primary law is pledged, which is to provide for expression of party preference in selection of United States senators. Domination of corporate influence is opposed. The abolishment of free passes on railways is commended. The American system of protection is held to be beneficial to all classes. Reciprocity is favored.

FISHES FOND OF MINNOWS.

Great Numbers Are Required as One Item of Aquarium Food Supplies.

In nature everywhere large fishes feed on small ones and on other forms of animal life which they may find in the water, and for their well being it is always sought as far as possible to supply such natural food to fishes in captivity, says the New York Sun.

In the case of a great aquarium like that in New York, with many captive fishes, this involves the supplying for food purposes, among other things, of a great number of minnows. The larger fishes in the New York aquarium consumed last year about 1,000 quarts of minnows, or about eight barrels.

The minnows thus fed range from half an inch to five inches in length and average about 2,500 to the quart, so that it takes about 2,500,000 minnows annually to furnish this item of the aquarium's food supplies, which includes also clams and shrimps and cut up fresh fish and various other things.

The largest of the striped bass, a fish close to three feet in length and weighing probably 35 pounds, will eat from 200 to 250 minnows in a day. If it should eat 200 a day for 300 days in the year it would in that period consume 60,000 minnows.

But whether, like the big striped bass, they eat 200 minnows in a day, or like some of the smaller fishes, only a dozen, or half a dozen, all fishes like minnows, and this fondness for them is not confined to fishes alone, but is shared by other animals of the sea, as, for instance, by seals, which like minnows very much. If a handful of minnows are thrown into a pool of seals the seals will dive and swim about after them with great swiftness until they have swallowed every one.

So it takes quite a lot of minnows to satisfy the natural appetite of the aquarium's larger fishes, but the two and a half millions, or thereabouts, thus annually taken don't cut much of a figure as compared with the number left. The minnows for the aquarium are all gathered within a comparatively small area, neighboring to Gravesend bay.

THE LARGEST RIVER PORT.

The Largest Number of Boats and Tonnage Is Enrolled at Memphis.

Memphis is the largest river port having boats enrolled exclusively in the river trade in the United States, both in number of boats engaged in trade that makes this the home port and in tonnage. This states the Memphis Commercial Appeal, is shown by the report of the commissioner of navigation of the United States.

Memphis has 84 boats enrolled here at the home port, with a total tonnage of 12,318 tons. St. Louis comes next, with 75 boats, showing a total tonnage of 22,820 tons. This large tonnage is shown by reason of the fact that many barges of large tonnage are making St. Louis the home port that are not entitled to be named among boats that are registered as traffic boats. Taking them off would give Memphis a much larger tonnage, and would also increase the number of boats in excess of those at St. Louis. Cincinnati has 68 boats, with a total tonnage of 14,332. Many of these are also barges, and should not properly be named.

Wheeling, W. Va., is next to St. Louis in number of boats, but the tonnage is only 8,188. The total number of boats is 73. Evansville has 71, with a total tonnage of 6,599. New Orleans has 30 boats engaged in the river trade, and a total tonnage of 4,748. Paducah has 30, with a total tonnage of 5,542, while Louisville has 38 boats, with a total tonnage of 7,030. Cairo has only 11 boats, that use it as a home port, with a total tonnage of 2,268.

Annual vs. Deferred Dividends from Advertising

All this talk about the cumulative effect of advertising is pretty much the same argument the insurance man put up when he sold us our deferred dividend policy.

IT'S an excuse to put off the day of final settlement in both cases.

We'll take our dividends annually, Mr. Insurance Man.

And, Mr. Advertiser, if this year's advertising didn't earn dividends you're on the five, ten or twenty year accumulative plan—may have to lapse before dividend time.

You may win out after your advertising "expert" gets through experimenting.

But we would like an opportunity to tell you in an interview how to get Annual Dividends from your Advertising. We would like to explain to you what we do to make advertising sell goods from the start, without the advertiser having to wait 5, 10 or 20 years for a dividend.

By doing this for our present clients—both large and small—we have built up the largest business of its kind in America.

One of our representatives is in your city every few days looking after the interests of some of our present clients. That is why we are advertising in this newspaper—to you—NOW.

A letter addressed to us, signifying that you will grant us an interview in your office, will not obligate you in any way.

We are solving commercial problems every day, and this is an offer to discuss such problems (small and large) as between business men. If the discussion does not develop the reasonable certainty that YOUR volume of business and percentage of net profit can be increased by Lord & Thomas advertising, there it will end.

JANESVILLE MAY BE A BUSY PLACE

MILWAUKEE, ROCKFORD AND EASTERN ROAD WILL BE DELAYED.

NEW ROAD IS DISCUSSED

Work On Madison Interurban—On Northwestern Sorting Yards Also To Begin.

There is great probability that Janesville will be the scene of much activity next summer. It is now announced that the proposed Milwaukee, Rockford and Eastern road which has thus far been paper talk will tap Janesville on its way to Milwaukee and that work of surveying and construction will begin next spring. If this is so and the work on the Madison-Stoughton-Edgerton-Janesville interurban is well under way and the construction of the new sorting yards of the Northwestern road south of the city begins, Janesville promises to be one of the busiest railway towns in the United States next spring. General Supt. Duffin of the I. L. and M., of which road the proposed Milwaukee road is an extension says that Janesville is practically assured a place on the road map of the new line. In speaking of the proposed road the Milwaukee Journal says:

The Statement.

"We shall proceed immediately with the building of the line northward from Rockford and proceed direct to Milwaukee after leaving Beloit and Janesville," said an official of the road at its Chicago office, speaking in the absence of President Seaman. "The name of the company which will do the building in Wisconsin is the Milwaukee, Rockford and Eastern, which was incorporated in Wisconsin by Mr. Seaman a few months ago."

"We are wholly independent of the Milwaukee-Southern railroad. If that company has what we want when we reach Milwaukee and proper and satisfactory arrangements can be made to use its terminals in Milwaukee, an understanding with the Milwaukee-Southern may be reached. Thus far however, we are entirely independent of it."

Walsh Settles Difficulties.

Following closely upon the announcement that John R. Walsh has at last succeeded in financing his Indiana railroad proposition comes the report that the Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota railroad is about to begin constructing near Muncie, Ind., where it will connect with the Walsh line. There appears to be important significance to Milwaukee in these two pieces of railroad gossip. John R. Walsh is the Chicago banker who narrowly avoided precipitating a financial panic on the country last winter when his three financial institutions were suddenly closed down with scarcely a moment's warning. The Chicago clearing house association committee, which took charge of the Walsh properties, tried to dispose of his Indiana railroads, the Southern Indiana and the Chicago Southern. The former a coal road running from Terre Haute to Westport, 148 miles, and operating a total of 301 miles. It is designed as the outlet for the Bedford Stone Co. and Indiana coal properties controlled by Walsh interests. The Chicago Southern road is the Chicago connection of the Southern Indiana, in the building of which Walsh wrecked his banks and almost himself.

Seaman Is President.

The Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota railroad is supposed to be connected with the Milwaukee Southern. President Wood of the Southern is, or was, general counsel for the Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota, which less than a year ago was completed from Aurora, Ill., to Rockford. It has generally been supposed that this road intended to build to Milwaukee from Rockford, though nothing definite could be learned about the plans until the incorporation May 1 of the Milwaukee, Rockford and Eastern Railroad Co. by H. W. Seaman of Clinton, Ia., and others. This company was organized ostensibly for the purpose of building the Wisconsin part of the Rockford-Milwaukee line. Mr. Seaman is president of the Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota. This line at Aurora connects with the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern road, a United States steel corporation property, which runs from Waukegan, on Lake Michigan, completely around Chicago to Port Huron, and constitutes an outer belt line for Chicago. It was reported recently that this line contemplated an extension to Milwaukee. From Aurora the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern runs down through Joliet and east into Indiana, passing a few miles north of Muncie. The I. L. & E. uses the tracks of the E. J. & E. between Aurora and Joliet, and according to reports current some months ago, intended to construct its own line from Joliet to Muncie, and thence north and east to Lake Michigan at one of a number of points mentioned.

Walsh Has the Funds.

The Walsh road was within three months of completion into Chicago when the crash came last winter. It was estimated at that time that $1,500,000 was needed to complete the line. Walsh is now reported to have raised $2,000,000 in New York and it is understood that he will go right ahead with construction.

During the negotiations conducted by the Chicago clearing house committee, the Rock Island-Frisco system, the New York Central and the Pennsylvania formed a three-cornered syndicate to purchase the Walsh interests. Their highest bid, however, was $7,000,000 less than the price asked by Walsh and the committee. Then the split came. About three months ago the Walshs were asked by the other three roads to purchase by the Chicago Southern, as that road did not parallel any of its lines, with the understanding that it should be given an equal voice in the management of the Southern Indiana. The matter was taken up by George Gould but he soon announced that it did not look attractive and the whole matter was dropped.

An Entrance to Chicago.

It now looks as though Walsh has succeeded in interesting the people back of the Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota, the Milwaukee Southern and perhaps the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern, and it is not too much to imagine the Chicago ex-banker a strong figure in the future development of Milwaukee's transportation facilities. The Milwaukee Southern when completed would have a direct outlet of its own almost to the Ohio river, and the Rockford line would give direct connections for Milwaukee with all the western roads. The Walsh line under the agreement that seems to have been made would afford an inlet to Chicago for the belt lines, of which the Milwaukee Southern, the Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota and the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern are parts.

BECKER DEFENDANT IN A DAMAGE SUIT

Stenographer Asks $5,000 of Probate Judge of Green County and Former Candidate for Circuit Judge. J. M. Becker, probate judge of Green county and one of the candidates in the recent four-cornered race for the circuit judgeship, has been made a defendant in an action for damages in a complaint made by Miss Edna Weirich, a former stenographer in the county court office, in which the plaintiff alleges slanderous and defamatory accusations alleged to have been made during a heated altercation between the parties on the 31st day of March last. The complaint was formally made through the plaintiff's attorney, W. C. Wheeler of Janesville, and placed in the hands of Sheriff Durst, who served the complaint upon Judge Becker late Tuesday afternoon. It is understood that the charges originated in a heated altercation in which the defendant is alleged to have called the plaintiff a liar and to have hinted that she was on terms of disgraceful intimacy with county officers. Attorney A. S. Douglas will represent the defendant and the case will probably be tried in the October term of circuit court. The girl asks $5,000 damages.

MICHIGAN DEMMIES ARE IN A QUANDARY

Do Not Know Who They Want For Governor or What Platform They Want.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 2.—With but little idea as to whom they would choose as their standard bearer against Governor Warner, this fall, the democrats of Michigan assembled in state convention in Detroit today. Woodbridge N. Ferris, who was the democratic gubernatorial nominee two years ago, was unanimously chosen again at the state primary this spring. But Mr. Ferris declined to make the race, and as a consequence the party was left up in the air. The problem for the convention to solve is to select the strongest candidate from among the half dozen or more who are willing to have the honor thrust upon them. The names that appear most prominently mentioned for the place are those of James W. Helme of Adrian and Charles H. Kimbelle of Cassopolis. Other aspirants for the place, any one of whom may develop sufficient strength in the convention to capture the nomination, are Mayor Stanley E. Parkin of Owosso, Thomas E. Barkwith of Jackson and John F. Bible of Ionia. The name of Mayor Rush Culver of Marquette is suggested for lieutenant governor. The make-up of the remainder of the ticket is problematical, as there appear to be few aspirants for the places. A majority of the delegates and party leaders on hand appear favorably disposed toward the Bryan movement and it is probable that this sentiment will be embodied in the convention resolutions.

MAYOR TOM JOHNSON NOT KNOWN TO HAVE HAD ANY FINANCIAL INTEREST INVOLVED

Suggestion to Contrary in Account of Street Railway Troubles in Cleveland; July 25, Was Entirely Unwarranted.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 2.—In the dispatches handled by the Associated Press, July 25, describing a controversy now in progress over the street railway situation in this city, a statement was made to the effect that the railway line on Fulton street was torn up by men acting under orders of Mayor Tom L. Johnson, and that this action was the outcome of the pending controversy in behalf of the Forest City railway three-cent fare line and which, under certain conditions, can come under the ownership and control of the municipality. In addition to relating facts as to the tearing up of the rails of the Cleveland Electric Railway company, a statement was made that Mayor Johnson "was credited with being largely interested in the municipal traction company." This statement was unwarranted and is believed to be entirely untrue if in its reading it tended to create the impression that Mayor Johnson had any financial interest whatever in the Forest City company, and it is contrary to every public statement made by that official, he having specifically anticipated by public announcement any such possibility. That he has been interested in the success of the company as an ultimate municipal ownership proposition, but primarily to secure a lower fare, he has openly proclaimed. The Associated Press, therefore, desires to disclaim any knowledge or motive other than this public interest, and to disavow any other suggestion in making the statement telegraphed.

Take Your Choice—a Drug or a Food

Physicians of the highest scientific attainments unite in declaring that coffee is a form of slow poison—a pernicious drug. They point out that it darkens the blood, clogs the liver, colors the skin, weakens the heart's action and ruins the digestion of all who drink it. On the other hand, doctors declare that a pure bottled beer, properly brewed from Malt and Hops, and fully aged, like is a most wholesome and delicious beverage. Gund's Peerless Beer being made from malted barley, is essentially a "food-stuff" of high nutritive value. If drunk regularly with meals it clears the liver, enriches the blood, brightens the skin, stimulates the gastric secretions and wonderfully promotes the digestive process. Thus it is that the beer-drinking races of men are the healthiest and in the forefront of the World's progress.

PROFESSOR MOLESCHOTT, the celebrated German savant, says: "A good beer is as nutritious as fruit. Fermented liquors taken in moderation increase the secretions of the digestive juices and promotes the assimilation of food."

PEERLESS BEER won the Gold Medal at the St. Louis Exposition for highest excellence. Contains less than 3 1/2 % of alcohol, therefore is really a temperance drink. Doctors prescribe it for the weak and sick. Used at all high-class health resorts. Delivered at homes on request by phone or mail. Sold at all cafes, saloons, hotels and buffets. Bottled only at brewery.

It is the Capital of "ALWAYS-ALWAYS-LAND!"

ITS STREETS ARE REPRESENTED BY THE CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING COLUMNS OF THIS NEWSPAPER--

Its business blocks and houses are the different classifications, and the want advertisements are the inhabitants—each one holding the proxy of, and so representing, some one who HAS SOMETHING TO ACCOMPLISH, or SOMETHING TO SELL, or SOMETHING TO SEEK.

You cannot visit this TOWN OF PERFORMANCE in the flesh—you must give your proxy and entrust your business or errand to a few lines of type—to a few concise sentences, written in your "best style." These locate in the Town of Performance—and sometimes accomplish your errand for you through one day's residence there—rarely, indeed, needing to stay in the town for more than one week on the same errand or quest.

So that to BUY A LOT in this curious town you simply buy space—the unit of measurement being a "LINE O'TYPE," and the cost being so small that you need never "stint" your message. Your "ownership" of this "lot," or space, is temporary, of course; and, perhaps, tomorrow the same particular location in the "TOWN" will be serving a wholly different purpose for a wholly different man—but you may renew your tenancy of your "lot" as often as you please; and this should mean AS OFTEN AS YOU NEED ANYTHING WHICH MAY BE FOUND IN THIS SAME "TOWN OF PERFORMANCE."
